

TO EMPLOYERS, APPRENTICES AND TRAINEES - You've signed a training contract! Congratulations!

You've already been provided with a lot of information – here's how we can all work together to have a successful training and employment relationship, and achieve the outcomes you're looking for.

	Training Contract	Training Plan
Key Points – What you need to know 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A legal agreement between the employer and the apprentice/trainee • Allows the employer and the apprentice/trainee to work together with the Registered Training Organisation (RTO) to build skills that are valuable in the workplace. • The employer gains a staff member who will understand the workplace and will develop skills that match the goals of the business. • The apprentice/trainee gains valuable work experience and a nationally recognised qualification. • Signed with the guidance of your Apprenticeship Network Provider (ANP/AASN), and registered with Skills Tasmania. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sets out the schedule of training that is agreed by the Registered Training Organisation (RTO), employer and apprentice/trainee. • Needs to be completed within 3 months of the training contract registration. • Developed and documented with your RTO. • Must be reviewed by the RTO, employer and apprentice/trainee two times per year. • Training time, as scheduled in the training plan, is paid work time – check your industrial agreement/award or contact Fair Work if you have questions.
What success looks like 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A commitment to mutual respect, honesty and fairness. • A safe and supportive working environment, free from bullying and verbal, physical, racial and sexual abuse. • The employer provides comprehensive induction processes for apprentices/trainees to ensure that they are aware, from the time of commencement, of the proposed training program, workplace safety requirements and their rights and responsibilities. • The apprentice/trainee attends and performs work in a professional and courteous manner in accordance with the employer's requirements. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A commitment to work together with your RTO to develop, review and adjust the training plan as necessary. • The employer provides facilities and expertise to assist in the training of the apprentice/trainee, including on-the-job training, an experienced and qualified supervisor, time to undertake off-the-job training. • The apprentice/trainee makes all reasonable efforts to achieve the competencies specified in the training plan and undertaking any training and assessment required.

We know that sometimes, things don't go to plan. When you feel something is not right – talk to someone.

Issues might interrupt the training, or affect the relationship between the employer and apprentice/trainee.

There are options available to employers and apprentices/trainees in difficult circumstances or when things change.

Here's a quick TROUBLESHOOTING GUIDE

It is a legal requirement of your training contract that you must let Skills Tasmania, your Apprenticeship Network Provider (ANP/AASN) and your Registered Training Organisation (RTO) know within five working days if you think your training contract has become jeopardised - for example if the apprentice/trainee is unable to complete scheduled training, or if the relationship between the employer and the apprentice/trainee becomes difficult.
