Purpose

Provide a contribution towards the cost of travel and accommodation for eligible apprentices and trainees to assist in reducing barriers to participation in training and support completions.

The contribution does not remove any entitlements that an apprentice or trainee has under their relevant Fair Work Award that the employer is required to pay.

Eligibility

To be eligible for the contribution, Tasmanian apprentices and trainees must:

1. Have an active training contract under the Training and Workforce Development Act 2013.
2. Be a Tasmanian resident.
3. Be required to travel to attend off-the-job training or assessments that are part of their agreed training plan.
4. Be undertaking an entry level qualification required for the apprentice or trainee's occupational outcome.

How to access the contribution

1. To access the contribution, apprentices and trainees travelling within Tasmania complete the 'Tasmanian Apprentice and Trainee Travel and Accommodation Contribution Claim Form'.
2. This form needs to be signed and provided to the Registration Training Organisation (RTO) teacher who will verify attendance and then send it to Skills Tasmania at travelclaims@skills.tas.gov.au.
3. For apprentices and trainees travelling interstate, the RTO will confirm training dates with Skills Tasmania who will email a travel warrant number to the apprentice or trainee eight weeks before their training starts.
4. The apprentice or trainee should then call Corporate Travel Management (CTM) who will book the flights as per the travel warrant number for the training block (see Interstate-Specific Conditions on page 2).
5. Skills Tasmania will pay travel and accommodation contribution payments directly to apprentices or trainees who are eligible. The payment for flights is paid directly to Corporate Travel Management.

Payment conditions

1. Travel and accommodation contribution payments will not be paid if training is available in Tasmania but an apprentice or trainee and their employer choose an RTO that can only offer training in another state.
2. Travel and accommodation contribution payments will not be paid if training is held at the apprentice or trainee's workplace.
3. Travel and accommodation allowances must be claimed within 4 weeks after training ends.

4. Skills Tasmania may recover contributions if the apprentice or trainee does not attend training or goes back to work or home before finishing training.
5. The training contract must be approved and registered by Skills Tasmania before Skills Tasmania will pay the travel and accommodation contribution.
6. The apprentice or trainee will receive travel and accommodation contribution payments based on the rates that were valid for the dates travelled.
7. Apprentices and trainees are eligible for a travel contribution payment if they need to travel 21 kilometres or more one way from their home to the nearest training centre.
8. Apprentices and trainees who need to travel 61 kilometres or more one way are also eligible for accommodation contribution payments.
9. Skills Tasmania will find the shortest route possible in calculating distances travelled.
10. If an employer pays for travel or accommodation, then the apprentice or trainee is not eligible to make a claim through Skills Tasmania.
11. Apprentices and trainees are fully responsible for their own accommodation bookings.
12. Skills Tasmania will determine what qualifications are considered as entry level qualifications for an occupation.

Interstate-specific condition

1. The apprentice or trainee should call Corporate Travel Management to book flights as soon as possible after they receive the travel warrant from Skills Tasmania. Details will be provided to the learner with the travel warrant.
2. If flights have not been booked before the travel warrant expires, which is two weeks before the training is scheduled, the apprentice or trainee may be responsible for the cost of the flights.
3. Skills Tasmania will only cover the cost of the most economical flights available on the required travel dates to and from Tasmania.
4. Flights will be booked for the day before training starts and the return flight will be on the last day of training. Skills Tasmania will not approve any flight requests outside these dates.
5. Return flights will be scheduled after 5pm on the last day of training. If an earlier flight is sought when booking the flights, the apprentice or trainee will need to provide Skills Tasmania with confirmation from the RTO that training will finish early.
6. If an apprentice or trainee can't go to training because of something unexpected like sickness, and they need to change their flights booked through CTM, they can ask for help with the costs of changing the flight. They must send their request to travelclaims@skills.tas.gov.au.
7. Skills Tasmania may not reimburse the costs of flights if the apprentice or trainee books the flights themselves.
8. Skills Tasmania will not approve changes to booked flights for personal reasons, except in the case of an emergency.
9. If additional training blocks are required due to early departures from scheduled training, an apprentice or trainee will not be eligible to access travel and accommodation contribution payments, including flights.
10. If an apprentice or trainee wants to travel via the Spirit of Tasmania, they need permission from Skills Tasmania before buying their ticket.

11. If travel by the Spirit of Tasmania is approved, Skills Tasmania will pay an amount equal to the cost of an airplane ticket to the apprentice or trainee with their travel and accommodation contribution payment after receiving a copy of the booking tax invoice. Skills Tasmania will determine the appropriate equivalent airfare.

Contribution rates within mainland Tasmania

Road travel:	41 cents per km (must travel 21 kms or further one way). 45 cents per km if travelling from West Coast, i.e., Queenstown, Strahan, Zeehan, Rosebery and Tullah.
Accommodation:	$55.00 per night if the apprentice/trainee must travel 61 kms or more to training. This does not include weekends.
